Translator's Notes

Pg. 23 – "several hundred million" Rintaro is referring to yen, so the equivalent in English is several million dollars.

Pg. 44 – Ultra Man A fictional superhero or "henshin" character featured in a "tokusatsu" or "special effects" television programs. A major pop culture phenomenon in Japan, the original show Ultra Q, has spawned dozens of imitators as well as numerous sequels and remakes, which continue to be popular today.

Pa. 57 - Henazo

This made-up name is a distortion of the name "Heizo" made to sound like "hena", which means "bendy" or "weak." It's kind of like calling a boy named "Brian", "Pliant" instead.

Pg. 178 - Etsuko Komiya

A newscaster famous for a long and dramatic divorce which revolved around issues of adultery.
